

American Museum of Natural History

March 23, 2015

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to request for assistance with a job I have been assigned in my department. As the chief exhibit designer at the American Museum of Natural History, I have been granted permission to create a new exhibit on diseases in history. My lack of knowledge on the biological aspect of diseases and the human body prevents the creation of a credible exhibit content.

I am sending you this message to ask for your help in creating the new exhibit. I need you to come up with a creative exhibit on a disease in the past history. You must include all the necessary information along with pictures, graphs, and/or diagrams that will help anyone who will read it understand the disease, impact on the human body, and the historical aspect of the disease.

Sincerely,

Todd Fitzpatrick Sampson
Chief Exhibit Designer
American Museum of Natural History
